

UroGP

UROLOGY IN GENERAL PRACTICE
SYMPOSIUM

Not to be missed educational event!

Saturday 14 September 2019
Melbourne Convention & Exhibition Centre
8.00am – 3.00pm

40 CME
points

Proudly hosted by

Complimentary registration for GPs and Nurses

Registrations are complimentary for GPs and Nurses.

Includes morning tea and lunch, as well as 40 RACGP CME points

The 10th Annual UroGP Symposium is a full day forum which explores a wide variety of urology health issues relevant to General Practitioners (GPs), and also touches on the latest solutions available to patients and innovative new developments in the urology field.

The program will include presentations by nationally and internationally recognised experts in urology, to further GPs understanding of urological issues, symptoms and treatments for patients young and old. There will also be a hands-on workshops for nurses in the afternoon.

UroGP will attract 40 Category 1 points as part of an Active Learning Module approved by the RACGP. Registration is complimentary for GPs and will include a buffet lunch and morning tea.

This seminar is designed to help general practitioners more easily deal with common and sometimes complicated urologic issues, including PSA testing, incontinence, prostate cancer screening, paediatrics, and urologic dermatology.

Prof Damien Bolton
Co-Convenor

Assoc Prof Nathan Lawrentschuk
Co-Convenor

Registration open!

Visit the symposium website for a copy of the program and to register
www.urogp.com.au

