

General practice respiratory clinics: winter 2022 social media messages

For more information on GP respiratory clinics please refer to the winter 2022 communications pack and visit nwmpmn.org.au/gprcs

Social media tiles and posts

Social media tiles

- Tile 1: Girl with fever \(.png\)
- Tile 2: Boy with runny nose \(.png\)
- Tile 3: Woman coughing \(.png\)
- Tile 4: Man coughing \(.png\)
- Tile 5: Man with tissue \(.png\)
- Tile 6: Older woman with breathing device \(.png\)
- Tile 7: Older man on couch \(.png\)
- Tile 8: Older man with asthma \(.png\)
- Tile 9: Older man coughing \(.png\)

Suggested social media posts

Do you need to see a doctor for cough, cold, COVID or flu symptoms? If you can't see your usual GP, free appointments are available at GP respiratory clinics across Melbourne. Find your closest: nwmpmn.org.au/gprcs

If you have a sore throat, a persistent cough or a runny nose, please book an appointment with your GP or a GP respiratory clinic. Find a clinic near you: nwmpmn.org.au/gprcs

Do you need a plan to manage your asthma this winter? Your local GP respiratory clinic can give you a free, comprehensive, face-to-face assessment and help you stay well during the colder months. Visit nwmpmn.org.au/gprcs to find your closest clinic.

Hacking cough? Sore throat? Runny nose? If you're unwell this winter, your local GP respiratory clinic can see you face to face and give you a treatment plan to feel better. Visit nwmpmn.org.au/gprcs

If have cold, flu or COVID symptoms this winter, please don't go to hospital unless it's an emergency. Your GP is the best health professional to give you advice – please book an appointment with them.

If your usual GP isn't available, free appointments are available at your nearest GP respiratory clinic:
nwmpnh.org.au/gprcs

Not sure if it's a cold, COVID or the flu? Your local GP respiratory clinic can give you a test and a treatment plan to get you better. Visit nwmpnh.org.au/gprcs

If you need an updated plan to manage your asthma, bronchitis or COPD, a GP respiratory clinic can help. Visit nwmpnh.org.au/gprcs Melbourne's hospitals are under pressure. Emergency departments are warning that surges in COVID-19, influenza and other respiratory viruses could be catastrophic for our health system this winter. If have a cough, cold, flu or COVID symptoms, please don't put more pressure on our hospitals. Book an appointment with your GP, or at a GP respiratory clinic near you:

nwmpnh.org.au/gprcs