FLU

Winter can often bring more infections from respiratory viruses, like COVID-19 and influenza (the flu). That's why it's important to get vaccinated against these viruses

The following resources provide information about staying up to date with your COVID-19 vaccines and getting an influenza vaccine this winter.

- Poster Get ready for winter
- Social tile Get ready for winter
- Social tile Wintertime and respiratory viruses
- Social tile You can get your COVID-19 and influenza vaccines at the same time

COVID-19 winter booster dose

For some people who are at higher risk of severe illness from COVID-19, a COVID-19 vaccine winter dose is recommended to increase protection this winter.

These resources provide information about the COVID-19 vaccine winter dose, and who is eligible to receive one.

- Fact sheet Winter COVID-19 vaccine booster doses
- Social tile When can I get my COVID-19 winter dose?
- Social tile A COVID-19 winter dose increases protection

Some people can get a COVID-19 vaccine winter dose now, if it has been more than 4 months since their booster dose.

Speak with your doctor if you are not sure if you should receive a winter booster dose.
