

CLINICAL PLACEMENT PROGRAM

IN CANCER SURVIVORSHIP 2022-2024

CALLING VICTORIAN PRACTICE NURSES AND ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONALS!

Apply now to participate via this link:

Participant Expression of Interest (Round 2): Clinical Placement Program in Cancer Survivorship (petermac.org.au)

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

This clinical placement opportunity is aimed at improving cancer survivorship skills and knowledge in Allied Health Professionals and Practice Nurses working in cancer care across Victoria.

Program components:

- 3-5 hours of cancer survivorship education (online)
- 3-8 hours clinical placement at an acute, rehabilitation or community health service (placements available from November 2022 – April 2024)
- Access to cancer survivorship education events post placement

Some participants may be eligible for travel reimbursements (conditions apply)

Available for the following health professionals:

Practice Nurses*

Allied Health Assistants

Art Therapists

Dietitians

Exercise Physiologists

Music Therapists

Occupational Therapists

Orthotists/Prosthetists

Pharmacists

Physiotherapists

Podiatrists

Psychologists

Radiation Therapists

Social Workers

Speech Pathologists

*Practice nurses are defined here as enrolled or registered nurses working in a GP or primary care setting

PROGRAM BENEFITS

- ✓ Build knowledge and confidence in caring for cancer survivors
- ✓ Network and build professional relationships with colleagues from different areas
- ✓ Enhance links between community and hospital-based professions

“ I loved this program and would love to do it again! In particular the confidence it gives me for my cancer survivor patients in general practice is very beneficial. ”
- past participant

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Please visit our website or contact the CPPiCS Project Team, on Ph 03 8559 6218 or E: ACSCplacements@petermac.org

