

Universal Co-design

The Commonwealth, in partnership with Roses in the Ocean and Folk, invite you to participate in a national co-design project.

Australian Government
Department of Health

Folk

We are seeking your wisdom and knowledge through your lived experience of suicide to inform the...

- o design of a national best practice aftercare framework
- o strengthening of national postvention services
- o development of national Distress Brief Support Model for trial

Through both face-to-face and online co-design sessions you will collectively develop best practice principles and service model guidelines for the development and strengthening of services for people experiencing emotional distress/crisis, following a suicide attempt, and for people bereaved through suicide. There will be face-to-face sessions in all States and Territories.

You are also invited to participate through the surveys, where your perspectives and ideas will contribute to the overall co-design process

For further information, and to register your interest in participating in this project, please use the QR code to the right or visit: <https://rosesintheocean.com.au/sector-priorities-collaborations/universal-co-design/>

Roses in the Ocean stemming the tide of suicide