Activity Consultation and Collaboration

Consultation

North Western Melbourne Primary Health Network (NWMPHN) is committed to ensuring stakeholder engagement is embedded in our culture and core functions.

Stakeholder engagement occurs throughout all seven activities that comprise our commissioning approach:

- Assess and prioritise needs
- Review evidence to inform planning and design
- Design services to address need
- Prepare the system for delivery
- Support implementation
- Manage performance and drive continuous improvement
- Evaluate the impact

We use a range of mechanisms to engage with our communities. This includes working with our Community and Clinical Councils, Expert Advisory Groups (EAGs) and People Bank members.

The Clinical and Community Councils provide advice to the Board about the unique needs of the region, and principles and mechanisms for engaging local stakeholders. The EAGs provide subject matter expertise, insights and advice to support operational model and service design, focusing on safety, quality, and integration. NWMPHN has EAGs for:

- General Practice
- Alcohol and Other Drugs
- Mental Health
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health
- Older Adults

People Bank is a register of people who would like to participate in activities that help to improve the health of people in the region. Members participate in a range of different activities including workshops, governance groups, surveys, and tender evaluation panels.

We continue to also consult and seek specific advice from relevant strategic and local organisations and other stakeholders, such as peak and professional bodies, governments, the primary health care sector and local health services and hospital networks.

This activity will also include meaningful key stakeholder input in the procurement and program development process. Commissioned provider(s) will also be expected to consult with community members when designing and implementing their activities.

Collaboration

NWMPHN's approach to collaboration and engagement is underpinned by the IAP2 model. Best practice in public engagement is influenced by the Spectrum of Public Participation developed by the International Association of Public Participation. This spectrum includes five levels of participation, Inform, Consult, Involve, Collaborate and Empower.

Collaboration will be utilised wherever possible throughout the commissioning cycle as NWMPHN recognises that working in this way adds value and strengthens our reach. Mutually meaningful collaboration is pursued and maintained in a systematic way across the organisation, which facilitates timely access to existing and new collaboration approaches. This is critical to driving a team-based and integrated approach to delivering person-centred primary care.

Collaboration with key stakeholders will occur throughout the commissioning process. Consequently, the following stakeholders may be involved in prioritisation, planning and design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of activities:

- Community participants – consumers, patients, carers, and people with lived experience, priority populations, community leaders
- Health care professionals
- NWMPHN regional and strategic partnerships and collaboratives
- Local health services and hospital networks
- Community health services
- General practice
- Residential aged care facilities
- Pharmacy
- Allied health
- Community-based organisations
- Research institutes
- Academic and training institutions
- Peak and professional bodies

- Victorian Department of Health
- Local government
- Other PHNs

Activity Priorities and Description

Program Key Priority Area *

Population Health

Other Program Key Priority Area DescriptionAim of Activity ***

The aim of this activity is to address the problem of multicultural communities' need for navigation support and equitable service experience from the primary care system.

Description of Activity *

The PHN has identified three components of the program identified from the outputs of a four-day Multicultural Community Panel. NWMPHN will commission a provider to undertake the following :

- Increase understanding of available primary care services among multicultural communities
 - Review existing information and services that can be made available in multiple languages. Work closely with local councils to make information packs available to members of multicultural communities and explore digital technology solutions to make information available on services easy to access.
- Facilitate navigation and support to multicultural communities to overcome barriers to accessing primary health care
 - Implement a navigation service that can identify and employ health navigators, based in community, who can navigate multicultural communities to access appropriate services. The navigators will also work with local stakeholders (including councils) to provide information about primary health options. The commissioned service will be expected to develop a model which includes provision of training and supervision to the health navigators.

- Enhance cultural competency within primary care facilities to better serve multicultural populations.
 - Undertake an assessment of current cultural competency and develop a wholistic cultural inclusion training package/toolkit as needed. The provider will be expected to pilot the training with primary care providers in a target LGA.

Based on the previously completed needs assessment, the activity will predominantly target first-generation multicultural Australians who have immigrated or migrated from a predominantly non-English speaking country. This will commence initially in Hume and depending on outcomes may continue in Hume or expand to include another target LGA.
